CLIENT

WHERE DISABILITY IS DIFFERENT.

For David, this means getting outside and tackling a job that mattered to him.
With encouragement from his support team and David's determination from his wheelchair, he took charge of sweeping leaves and tidying his driveway.
Independence isn't about doing everything alone. It's about having the right support to achieve your goals, your way.

WHERE POSSIBILITY LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Haydn, this looked like a day spent chasing adventure on the waters of Port MacDonnell.
With a fishing rod in hand and plenty of determination, he set out in search of the ultimate catch, a shark.
The shark may have got away this time, but the fresh sea air, stunning views and excitement of the hunt made for a day to remember.

WHERE CONTRIBUTION LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Tracey, this looks like rolling up her sleeves and lending a helping hand. With vacuum in hand and a smile on her face, she took pride in helping clean the service vehicle, tackling the job with focus, enthusiasm and attention to detail.
Because confidence grows when we're given the opportunity to contribute, learn new skills and take pride in a job well done.

WHERE DETERMINATION LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Paige, this looks like climbing into the saddle of her favourite horse, Noodles.
After working towards this goal for a long time, Paige recently enjoyed her very first ride, turning a dream into reality with the support and encouragement of the wonderful team at Riding for the Disabled Association.
Progress isn't measured in big leaps. It's the courage to show up and keep working towards your goals.

CORNER

WHERE FRIENDSHIP LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Scott and David, this looks like soaking up the sunshine and enjoying each other's company on a picture-perfect day.
Friendship, connection and shared moments like these are what make every day a little more enjoyable.

WHERE EXCITEMENT LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Anton, this looks like a day spent exploring the sights, sounds and excitement of the Royal Adelaide Show. The highlight? An unexpected interview with Nine News!
Sometimes the best days are the ones filled with new experiences, plenty of laughter and memories that last long after the Show is over.

WHERE COMMUNITY LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Peter, this looks like a trip to the shops and a chance to enjoy the simple things.
Over lunch and while exploring the shopping centre, Peter spent time taking it all in and sharing his joy by greeting passers-by with plenty of smiles.
A relaxed afternoon, good company and time spent out in the community made for a day that Peter thoroughly enjoyed.

WHERE TEAM WORK LOOKS DIFFERENT.

For Brian, it looked like stepping up and helping out at his local football club.
Known as the team's unofficial Hydration Manager, Brian enjoyed spending time around the club community, keeping everyone refreshed and being part of the action.
With a big smile and a strong team spirit, Brian showed that every role plays an important part in game day success.
